

ABSTRACT

A new and distinct variety of apple tree, 'PV 1027,' originating as a whole tree mutation of the Malus sylvestris variety of 'Arends' (U.S. Plant Patent 2,800).

This new variety is unique from its parent because the fruit ripens 7 to 9 days before the parent and presents a larger, more reniform shape.